He said: "Today, as ever, the Church needs credible lay witnesses to the saving truth of the Gospel, its power to purify and transform human hearts.... "In all that you do, strive to place your own insights, talents and charisms at the service of the Church's growth in unity and missionary outreach," he encouraged, adding that this should be done "in complete harmony of mind and heart with your pastors." QUESTION OF THE WEEK

*For the Twenty-First Sunday in Ordinary Time
August 24, 2014*

Jesus asked his disciples... "But who do you say that I am?" Do you know who Jesus is simply because you've been taught the right answer? Or, has personal experience shown you who Jesus is? How would you answer the question from both the doctrinal and your personal perspectives? This week, take some time with your children and/or grandchildren to tell them who Jesus is for you. Ask them to respond to the question as well. The treasured innocence of children may teach you something new about Jesus. After your discussion, celebrate by going out together for an ice-cream cone.

Christian values and attitudes are taught and children experience fellowship and fun with children their own age. They also develop positive attitudes about themselves and others by discovering the gifts, talents, and abilities that God gives to everyone.
